As the annuitant, you can determine the payment type and payment schedule for your annuity. See below for a list and explanation of frequently used payment types and schedules.

Payment Type Options	Explanation of Payment Benefits
Period Certain See Examples A & B	Non-life contingent periodic payments are made for the designated length of the contract (the period certain). All payments are guaranteed whether or not the annuitant is alive. The amount of guaranteed income is equal to the total of all of the payments in the contract.
Guaranteed Lump Sum See Example C	A single, guaranteed payment is paid to the annuitant on the date specified in the contract. All payments are guaranteed, whether or not the annuitant is alive.
Lifetime Guarantee Income See Example D	Life contingent periodic payments are made for the life of the annuitant and are guaranteed for the length of time designated in the contract. Payments beyond the guaranteed period will only occur through the life of the annuitant.

Payment Schedule Options	Explanation of Payment Schedule
Monthly	Monthly payments are made to the annuitant (or the designated beneficiary upon the annuitant's death, if applicable), as determined in the contract.
Quarterly	Quarterly payments are made to the annuitant (or the designated beneficiary upon the annuitant's death, if applicable), as determined in the contract.
Annually	Annual payments are made to the annuitant (or the designated beneficiary upon the annuitant's death, if applicable), as determined in the contract.
Future Lump Sum	A single payment is made to the annuitant (or the designated beneficiary upon the annuitant's death, if applicable), as determined in the contract.
